THE HILDEGARDIS- VEREIN E.V.

We are the oldest association for the promotion of women's studies in Germany. Our association was founded in 1907 by Maria Schmitz, a teacher and politician from Aachen, and other committed Catholic women in Cologne.

For more than 110 years we have been committed to the advancement of women. For us, that means:

- Supporting women extensively in acquiring academic qualifications and
- encouraging them to achieve their professional goals and utilize their potential.

We deliberately provide support in areas where there is no public funding because we understand learning to be a lifelong process that should not fail because of financial issues. With our work, we want to support women in their individual life situation as well as to create a social and political framework that gives them equal opportunities in terms of their lives and education in Germany.

Since our founding, we have supported approximately 1500 women. They also benefit from our network, which has grown over the years and includes all generations from young to old.

The Hildegardis-Verein is run by an honorary board of directors and is supported by a selection committee in the granting of loans. The daily work of the association is done by our office in Bonn.

WHY DO WE SPECIFICALLY SUPPORT WOMEN?

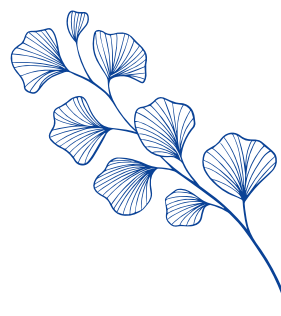

In the year the Hildegardis-Verein was founded, women in Prussia were not yet allowed to study at university. They therefore had no access to academic education. This led to disadvantages in many other areas of life, such as family and career.

Since the beginning of the 20th century, the situation for women in Germany has improved enormously. This is thanks to the countless people who have worked for gender equality and equal rights over the years. Rooted in the founding mission of the Hildegardis-Verein to support Catholic women in their studies, we continue this mission and have extended it to women of every Christian denomination.

Today, women still face specific and systemic challenges and disadvantages in education and employment: Compared to men, they earn less, are more likely to care for children and relatives, and are less likely to hold leadership or board positions.

We therefore want to make women visible in church and society and help them have equal opportunities on their educational, career and life paths, because we believe in our motto:

Education enables to fly.
